

A Chain of Kindness

CREATE • ENCOURAGE • MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Kindness and fairness help make our homes, schools, and communities stronger. In this activity, you will create a paper chain showing different ways to spread kindness and fairness.

Materials You Could Use:

- Colored paper (or plain paper to decorate)
- Scissors
- Glue or tape
- Markers, crayons, or colored pencils

Directions:

1. Cut strips of paper (about 1 inch wide).
2. Write or draw one way to show kindness or fairness on each strip.
3. Glue or tape the ends of a strip together to make a loop.
4. Slide the next strip through the first loop and continue until your chain is complete.
5. Display your chain somewhere as a reminder to choose kindness every day!

Ideas for Your Paper Chain:

- Be a good friend.
- Include others.
- Share.
- Take turns.
- Help someone in need.
- Use kind words.
- Treat people fairly.
- Stand up for what is right.
- Encourage someone.
- Be honest.
- Show gratitude.
- Look for ways to serve others.

Small acts of kindness make a big difference!

Think About It...

- Which act of kindness is easiest for you?
- Which one might be the hardest?
- How can small acts of kindness help make your family, school, or community a better place?
- What does fairness look like in everyday life?

"Let all that you do be done in love."
