

A Frontier Cabin

DRAW • BUILD • CREATE

Early settlers needed simple but sturdy homes. Frontier cabins were usually built from trees and provided shelter for families on the frontier.

Draw a picture of a frontier cabin or build a small model using materials of your choice.

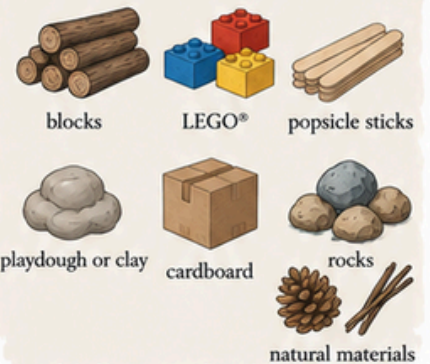

Draw Your Frontier Cabin Here

Ways to Create:

- Draw and color your cabin.
- Build a model using blocks, LEGO®, popsicle sticks, cardboard, or other materials.
- Use playdough or clay.
- Be creative! You can add a fence, trees, a garden, or anything else.

Materials You Could Use:

Examples for Inspiration:

Drawn Example

Popsicle Stick Example

Playdough Example

Think About It...

- Why do you think settlers built cabins instead of larger homes at first?
- What materials did they have available?
- How do you think life in a frontier cabin was different from your home today?
- What would you need most if you were building a cabin on the frontier?